

CURRICULUM VITA

Christopher Hovey Dalton

Office: 401-841-2942

Lieutenant Colonel, US Marine Corps

Military Professor, Joint Military Operations

Connolly 403

U.S. Naval War College

Newport, RI 02840

FORMAL EDUCATION

2008 US NAVAL WAR COLLEGE, Newport, Rhode Island, M.A. NATIONAL SECURITY & STRATEGIC STUDIES.

1988 UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS, Lawrence, Kansas, Bachelor of Science, MIDDLE/SECONDARY EDUCATION.

EMPLOYMENT

1994-Present, Ground Supply Officer/Logistician, US Marine Corps

2011-2016, Adjunct Military Professor, US Marine Corps Expeditionary Warfare School; College of Distance Education & Training. Okinawa, Japan & 29 Palms, California

2008-2011, Observer/Trainer/Plenary Facilitator, Joint Forces Command, Suffolk, Virginia

2001-2005, Ground Supply Officer Instructor & Department Head, US Marine Corps Ground Supply School, Marine Corps Combat Service Support Schools, Camp Johnson, North Carolina

1989-1992, Junior High & High School teacher (English, US Government, Economics, Geography, US/World History), Shawnee Mission, Kansas & Quinter, Kansas

PUBLICATIONS (Books and Articles)

2014

Libya: History and Revolution. Richard A. Lobban, Jr., and Christopher H. Dalton, ABC-CLIO, Santa Barbara, CA

2017

African Insurgencies: From the Colonial Era to the 21st Century. Richard A. Lobban, Jr., and Christopher H. Dalton, ABC-CLIO, Santa Barbara, CA

2018

“International Response to crisis in Darfur.” ; ABC-CLIO, Santa Barbara, CA

NOTE: In addition, Opinion-Editorial articles covering US Policy towards Africa during the 2012 Election; The Western Sahara of a journalistic nature appeared in The Providence Journal.

BOOK REVIEWS

2014

A Poisonous Thorn in our Hearts: Sudan and South Sudan’s Bitter and Incomplete Divorce. James Copnall, Oxford University Press, New York.