U.S. Naval War College at the Naval Postgraduate School

U.S. Naval War College (NWC) Monterey is a satellite office of NWC, College of Distance Education (CDE) located on campus at the Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) in Monterey, California. In partnership with NPS, we provide qualified officers and select DoD civilians attending NPS the opportunity to earn an NWC diploma and Joint Professional Military Education (JPME) Phase I credit.

Course Highlights

- Only NPS students can apply for this program, courses are taken at NPS in Monterey, California.
- Students complete this program while pursuing an NPS Degree.
- Students earn JPME Phase I credit and a NWC Naval Command & Staff diploma.

Who is Eligible

Active Officers and Federal Government Civilians attending NPS can apply for the program, contracted personnel are not eligible to apply.

- Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard active duty officers must be in the grade of O3 and above.
- U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force active duty officers selected for promotion to O4 and above.
- Federal Government service civilians in the grade of GS11 and above, or equivalent.

What to Expect

Students will need to complete all core courses: Strategy and War (S&W), Theater Security Decision Making (TSDM), and Joint Maritime Operations (JMO) to receive the NWC diploma. JMO is split into two courses and must be completed in two consecutive quarters, part one immediately followed by part two.

- Students assigned to NPS will complete the NWC-at-NPS coursework along with the NPS courses.
- Seminar-style classes that also include research, writing, and class discussion. These classes are taught by resident NWC faculty permanently assigned to the NWC-at-NPS program.
- Core courses are four-credits that lasts an academic quarter. JMO is the only course split into two courses and must be completed in consecutive quarters.
